

I have fully supported the Indiana's No Call List, and I my home phone number put on the list when the list was first opened to the public. Prior to that, we got numerous calls all through the evening from companies, banks, etc. which I had no social, economic, or private dealings with. After my number was placed on the list, we have had no calls, and enjoying peaceful evenings having dinner, television, books, etc. without interruptions. Please allow Indiana's No Call List to stay as it now is, and deny the mega-banks their request to water down a good law. My small, home-town bank, First Indiana Bank, is not participating in this petition to the FCC, and I commend them for being very practical.
